PARADERS DEMAND SUGAR CUT

Boston chain stores are selling sugar, in retail, for 10½¢ and 11¢. A canvass of five "chains" revealed the fact that four of them were charging 11¢. The Federal Sugar Company has announced a half-cent cut in the wholesale price, from 10¢ to 9½¢, and the American Sugar Refining Company has cut from 10.15¢ to 9.95¢ per pound.

New York, May 4 (By International News Service).—Twenty-five thousand women and children paraded to the City Hall here this afternoon and demanded lower sugar prices.

The "fay less" and "eat less" activities of the New York Housewives' Sugar Committee have broken sugar prices about one cent retail, but the women say that isn't enough.

Retail sugar is now selling at 9½¢ to 10 cents in some stores.

Showing further effects of the ration-wide housewives' boycott, Cuban raw sugar today sold at 5½¢ cents a pound cost and freight, New York, etc.

The Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company has announced a half-cent cut in the wholesale price, from 10¢ to 9½¢.

QUIMET WINS BY 1 STROKE

Boston Goffer Captures Play-off for St. George's Cup From Willing, 77 to 78

Sandwich, May 4 (By the Associated Press).—Francis Quimet of Boston won the Royal St. George's champion grand challenge golf trophy today, defeating by one stroke Dr. O. P. Willing of Portland, Ore., in the playoff of yesterday's tie.

Quimet took 77 strokes for the sixteen holes, while Dr. Willing required 78. A large crowd watched the play. The sun was shining brightly and only a light breeze was blowing over the links.

Quimet led by one stroke at the ninth hole and by two strokes at the sixteenth. It was a hard fought contest, with Dr. Willing on Quimet's heels all the way. At the eighteenth hole the Oregon champion's approach shot came within three inches of the cup. Had it dropped it would have tied the match.

QUIMET'S STEADY PLAY
Quimet went out in 37 and finished in 38. The Boston golfer's play was steady and consistent, although his putting might have been improved upon. He took two putts on every green except two and needed three of these.

Willing was frequently in the rough and in the bunkers, but by hanging on tenaciously, largely through his superiority in putting, it was not until he reached the sixteenth that he required three putts, at the Continued on Page 16, Column 1.

20 Workmen Scoury to Street as $20,000 Fire Sweeps Through Top Floor

Twenty men employed in the Motor Mart, No. 220 Eliot street, fled today when fire swept through the upper floor of the building occupied by the Vehicle Auto Top Company.

The fire was started by the burning out of an electric fan and spread rapidly. Firemen estimated damage at $20,000. The concern in the building were the Vehicle Auto Top Company, the Atlas Tire Company, the Crown Auto Supply Company and C. H. Green, dealer in automobile accessories.

While the Eliot street fire was in progress an alarm from the congested district at Federal and High streets called apparatus to a brick blaze in the ventilation pipe of the kitchen of Rich's Grill, No. 123 Federal street.

PROHIBITION AGENT SUED FOR $10,000
Portsmouth, N. H., May 4.—A suit for $10,000 damages was brought here today against Austin P. Ellsworth of Concord, Federal prohibition enforcement agent, and Sheriff Sam W. Scorton of Dover by Charles Spilow of Dover. Spilow alleges false arrest and assault in connection with an attempt to find liquor in his automobile.

BEVERLY'S "MAYOR" ARRESTED

The City of Beverly was in an uproar today following the arrest of Edward Thompson, acting mayor and president of the Board of Aldermen.

Thompson, released shortly after his arrest, threatens legal reprisal. Mayor George H. Whittemore is absent in Washington. This automatically makes Thompson acting mayor. Before he left for Washington, Whittemore left orders that nobody was to be permitted to enter his office.

He took the precaution of taking the keys away with him. In addition, he stationed Patrolman Hanson at his office door. Why these extraordinary precautions were taken is not known.

Thompson today, feeling that in order to carry out his work as acting mayor it was necessary for him to return to his office, was arrested by the police.

Man's Corpse Found in the Charles River Has Cut on Neck and Ripe on Wrist

The body of a man with a three-inch cut on the back of the neck and a stout cord knotted around the left wrist was found floating today in Charles River basin ten feet from the esplanade wall at the foot of Gloucester street on the Boston side.

Sergeant Charles Newell of police headquarters notified the Metropolitan Park Police station at Charles river dam. The body was taken to the park police station.

The body had evidently been in the water several weeks. The man in life had been from thirty-five to forty years old, five feet and seven to eight inches tall and weighed from 160 to 165 pounds. He had black hair and mustache.

Clothing included dark trousers, dark hat, cross-colored shirt, with sleeves rolled to elbow, white woolen underwear and black shoes.

FIN. COM. TO START ON NEW TACK

Full investigation of the Schoolhouse Commission will be made by the Finance Commission, as the result of evidence during the commission's probing into the building of the new home in Jamaica Plain of Thomas P. Glynn, chairman of the Schoolhouse Commission.

Fifteen contractors who have done work on schoolhouses, are said to have held sub-contracts on Mr. Glynn's new home they have testified. A prominent electrical contractor, who has the happy faculty of getting most of the electrical work on schoolhouses, regardless of administrations, was called before the Finance Commission yesterday.

The schoolhouse department spends between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 each year on repairs to school buildings. A majority of contracts for repairs are not advertised as they are let out below the $1,000 mark.

It has been stated that masons, electricians and other contractors are under new and black shoes.

U. S. SPEEDERS TO BE FINED ON SPOT IN CANADA

Quebec, May 4.—Automobile tourists from the United States caught exceeding the new speed limit of this province will not be taken to court, but will be immediately assessed $10 by revenue agents empowered to collect on the spot. The regulations establish a limit of 30 miles an hour in rural communities and 20 miles in towns. The provincial automobile bureau has appointed a traffic manager to supervise the revenue agents, each of whom will carry artistically engraved receipts, to be given the tourists when they are fined.

AVIATORS TELL HOW THEY MADE LONG FLIGHT

By LIEUTENANTS KELLY AND MACREDDY

Copyright, 1923, by Connecticut News Service
Rockford, Ill., North Island, San Diego, Calif., May 4.—Many questions have been asked in these days of our transcontinental air voyagers, but the one question most insistent is:

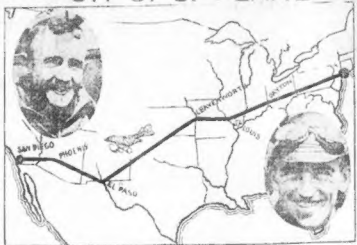

"How did you do it?"

It must be recalled, of course, in writing this that we are speaking impersonally, knowing that the feat is greater than the men who have performed it. With that in mind we can answer:

Hard work did it. Nothing more and nothing more. There is only one way to do anything. Make every one you are right and then go ahead—and even then you may be wrong. The practical results of our trip could be specified in various ways. There should be no four men that the aviation islands would be cut out from communications or supplies during a state of war. The aviators could be sent from San Francisco to New York in a day; passengers could be transported in an equal space of time and shipping could be covered by scheduled express airplanes.

The important part of this world's record, however, is that it should make every American proud. It was made in America.

3RD WORLD'S RECORD FOR U. S. PLANE

AVIATORS AND NON-STOP FLIGHT

Alone on left, Lieutenant Kelly and Macreddy, known as Kelly and Macreddy, flew a single engine plane from San Diego to New York in 24 hours, 50 minutes and 55 seconds, made at an approximate speed of 100 miles an hour from New York to San Diego. The machine was a T-2, single Liberty motor type, and carried more than 700 gallons of gas. This same plane now holds three world's records—non-stop flight, remaining aloft and for flying with a single motor.

FINE BACK BAY GIRL, DRUNK IN AUTO, $55

Charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and with drunkenness, Miss Alice M. Collins, of No. 403 1/2 Back Bay, was fined $55 on the evening charge and $1 for drunkenness in District Court today. She was seen in District Court today, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and with drunkenness. She was fined $55 on the evening charge and $1 for drunkenness in District Court today.

FLIGHT AROUND WORLD NOW PLANNED

San Diego, Cal., May 4.—Lieutenant Kelly and John A. Macreddy, who flew from coast to coast, are planning to go round the world by air.

The movement is under way today. The flyers also are planning to break the record for sustained flight.

By the Associated Press.
By the Associated Press.

San Diego, Cal., May 4.—Today in a hangar at Rockwell Field, near here, stands a flying machine which only days before yesterday stood in a hangar at Hempstead, N. Y., 2,500 miles away, having traversed the continent in the air, under its own power, and without a stop, in 24 hours, 50 minutes and 55 seconds.

Another step in the progress of aviation has been accomplished and one which surpasses what have been at first merely terms "the flight of a bird," for no bird can fly continuously for so long a time or such a distance.

The men who flew the machine from New York, Lieutenants Kelly G. Kelly and John A. Macreddy, between them hold several aviation records for speed, duration of flight and weight taken into the air on a single airplane.

They thought little of their accomplishment and almost as soon as they landed were making plans for attempting to establish a new record for duration of flight and an attempt to fly around the world. "You have accomplished the impossible," Major Arnold told the flyers and the words found echoes from every quarter of the country in telegrams, including one from President Harding which read: "You have written a new chapter in the triumphs of American aviation."

Both the aviators were in good physical condition. Except for a few splinterings of oil from the Liberty engine, they were seemingly as fresh on landing as if they had taken an hour's jaunt.

The story of the flight was told by the men who made it in a matter of fact way with first one and then the other putting in a sentence or a word to illuminate some point as they alternately carried on the description.

There was the start when the hangars at Hempstead were missed only by inches. There was difficulty in getting the motor's full power into play for the first few hundred miles and the thrill Macreddy described when they ran into a huge beacon light at Belleville, Ill., piercing the clouds and darkness to guide them on their way. There was the danger of the desert in Arizona, where landing in the day time was dangerous and at night most likely fatal. And then San Diego, meeting like a miniature Paradise in a bay of the Pacific Ocean in Southern California—home. A flight finished. A record made. Bath, food and cigarettes.

PERMANENT AVIATION. Two miles of anxiety was in the story. That remained from the fear while over New Jersey that the engine regulator of their ignition system would force them to land. Luckily it repaired it.

The airplane had about forty gallons of gasoline left in its tanks when it landed out of the 725 gallons it took at the start. The plane was the same the flyers had used in earlier attempts to fly across the continent but the motor was different. The motor used is an 400 horse power standard compression Liberty.

This type of motor aviation of the past—of the success of the flight—that is used to the gift and flying ability of the two lieutenants. Major Arnold declared the record set by Kelly and Macreddy demonstrated the feasibility of commercial air lines across the continent. Passengers, he said, could be carried a distance in one day which the fastest passenger trains require five to cover.

Both airmen were enthusiastic in their praise of the Weather Bureau for its accurate forecast of what conditions might be encountered on the trip.

The planes they flew in to San Diego was the same they had used in two previous attempts to cross the American continent without a stop, the first of which was halted by a fog which prevented them from finding their way through the mountains pass east of here, and the second of which terminated through failure of their engine at Indianapolis last November.

GLOUCESTER SLOGAN IS NOW "FRESH FISH"

Glooucester, May 4.—"Fresh fish" is the slogan adopted by nine of the principal fish packers of Gloucester in a campaign to secure the good quality of fish at the time they pack.

Some action relative to the use of "fresh fish" in handling fish is expected to be taken. While it is expected that plentiful supply will be in the handling of the fish, it is expected that in the eight hands in which plentiful supply is used, it is placed and ordered in such a manner as to be early decay.

Coast to Coast, No Stop Declined, Without Thanks To Stop Hazing Religion Keeps Up By Arthur Brisbane

AS THIS IS WRITTEN an army flying machine flies a journey from the Atlantic to the Pacific without a stop, at an average speed of about 100 miles an hour. A little while ago Northcliffe was offering $50,000 to any man that would fly all the way across the English Channel from France to England—not as far as from Chicago to Milwaukee.

Young people of today will fly around the earth and think no more of it than we think of riding to an automobile—the experience that was so exciting only twenty years ago.

In mechanical ways we move rapidly. In intellectual and spiritual ways less rapidly. Perhaps a spiritual age will follow this mechanical age. Pray for that.

GERMANY OFFERED France and Belgium seven thousand five hundred million dollars in gold to get out of the Ruhr. The offer is declined without thanks. England was not con- sidered. Her fleet's blockade made possible the French victory. America was not consulted, of course—they only consult this country when they want to borrow money or postpone the payment of a debt. Europe's opinion of this nation is that it came into the war too late to be of much use, and didn't do much after it got in.

THE PATRIARCH TIKHON, head of the Russian church, is deposed and denounced as a traitor—not by Trotsky, but by a congress of the All-Russian Church, which votes loyalty to the Soviet and to Lenin as "liberators for truth."

Yesterday American Protestant clergymen in Russia were praying for the success of the Russian government and praising it.

THAT WILL SHOCK many, yet it is not unusual for religion to keep abreast of changing conditions in politics.

Clergymen realize that to influence men you must deal with them as they are. When Napoleon seated himself on a throne made vacant by revolutionists that chopped off the head of Louis XVI, he held his scepter with religious approval, and the head of the church came to France to crown him emperor. Other kings looked on him as Europe's king, now look on Lenin.

A BOY'S SKELETON is found under water, tied to a pier in Lake Michigan. He is supposed to have been killed by hazing. And professors declare themselves powerless to stop that brutality.

Here's a suggestion. Before admission let each student take a solemn oath not to engage in hazing of any kind while at college and to reveal any hazing that may come to his knowledge, even those willing to prove.

NEW YORK RUM FLEET HAS COME BACK

Two Women Involved Among Six Persons; the Trail Leads to Ontario

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 4.—Police said early today they believed at least five or six persons to be involved in the kidnapping of Verner Alexander.

Two of the persons were women, it was said, and police were seeking to confirm the belief that Mrs. I. B. Grinnell, arrested when the boy was found, is related to one of the men sought as the abductor.

Fifteen riven were employed to maintain a watch at all river ports in an effort to prevent the escape of the two men who are believed to have kidnapped the boy or to trail them should they seek to return to this country from Canada, where it is thought they may be hiding.

The men are believed to be Stanley Crandall of Rochester, formerly of Watertown, and Harry Fairbanks of Alexandria Bay. Both are married and for some time have been living at Alexandria Bay, where the police say, they have engaged in bootlegging.

The men were traced to Alexandria Bay after they had left the boy, Mrs. Grinnell, and there they guarded their automobile. From that point, police say, they believe they went in a motorboat to Rockport, Ont., and there the trail ends.

E. P. W. Alexander, father of Verner, informed last night that the boy isolated on bringing home the dog which his abductors had given him, declared:

"No matter what kind of a dog it was, he's going to keep it."

Kidnaped Boy Has Joyful Reunion With His Family

Watertown, N. Y., May 4.—Verner Alexander, kidnaped Schenectady lad, who was found last evening in a shack on the Indian River near Theresa, twenty-five miles from here, started home today after a joyful reunion with his father and mother at the home of Sheriff Ernest C. Gillett.

With him goes a mongrel dog, "Jack," a present from his kidnappers.

Mrs. H. D. Grinnell of Alexandria Bay, foster mother of Mrs. Fairbanks, is at the county jail here. At first she maintained she did not know Fairbanks and Crandall, the alleged kidnappers, declaring that they hired her to care for the child.

In her possession was found a letter addressed to E. P. W. Alexander, father of the kidnaped boy, in which she asked information about the two men. The authorities believe it was written as an alibi in case the boy was found.

She has another letter signed by "H. C. Miller," but written by Crandall, in which he enumerated her of complicity. This, also, is suspected of being a move to protect her.

When she learned that the officers knew of Fairbanks and his connection with the case, she admitted her relationship with Mrs. Fairbanks, but denied knowledge of the kidnapping. She thought it was a "liquor deal."

Bert Jarvis, Theresa boat river man, who tested the boy after he was found, is being held by the sheriff. He is charged with having left the registered barge containing the bonds in a hiding place while removing them to the station. His confederates, the police charge, later removed the boy.

3 IN FAMILY HELD FOR BOND THEFT

Toronto, May 4.—Officers of the mounted police today attempted to trace $100,000 worth of bonds stolen three weeks ago after they had been committed to the post for transfer to New York city.

Four persons, including a family of mother, father and son, were arrested for the crime after the woman was said to have been found disposing of $4,000 worth of the bonds.

The prisoners are Findlay and Sarah McDonald and their son, Findlay Jr., 17, of Hamilton, and Benjamin McDonald of New York.

The senior McDonald employed as a postal station chauffeur, was charged with having left the registered barge containing the bonds in a hiding place while removing them to the station. His confederates, the police charge, later removed the boy.

HONK OF AUTO BRIGITENS PRISONER OF 23 YEARS

If you were in jail for twenty-three years, what would you do on your first day out?

What would you want to eat? Where would you want to go? What would you want to see? What would make the deepest impression on you?

James Barr, paroled from State prison after twenty-three years, wanted a big, juicy breakfast. He wanted to hear a pipe organ. He wanted an automobile ride. The organ moved him to tears, and the honking of automobile horns frightened him. Read his own story.

By JAMES M. BARR

Well, I'll say that it feels good to be a free man. I never realized before just how wonderful this old world is. There are thousands of things that I never noticed before I was cooped up behind the prison walls.

METHODISTS ASKED TO LET UP ON DANCE BAN

New York, May 4.—Adoption by the Methodist Episcopal church of a "less Pharisaical" attitude toward the amusement profession was urged by Louis H. Clark, Vice-President of the American Society of Teachers of Dancing, in a telegram to the Board of Bishops of that denomination meeting in Wichita, Kansas.

The message asked investigation of the case of Miss Edna L. Shaw, Wichita newspaper woman and dancing teacher who was refused membership in the First Methodist Church where the bishops are meeting.

DRAG SEA BOTTOM. Map shows area to be dragged for sunken rum ship John Dwight. Crew indicates square mile is expected to have gone down.

The auxiliary schooner Herman E. Rogers, Captain George F. Tilton, accompanied by the catboat Restless, started early in the day for the Maine Grand Shoal, but were forced back by the gale.

The little catboat nearly came to grief in the heavy seas and Captain Tilton continued to return to the port to await a better opportunity to sound for the sunken lighter.

In putting out to return to the shelter of the Haven the Restless was nearly swamped by the high seas. The Rogers ran up to the windward of the little craft, where her auxiliary engines to maintain her position and thus formed a "lee" for the Restless, making it possible for her to right herself. The catboat had taken in considerable water and had to be pumped out.

Forty-nine square miles of ocean bottom have been charted off to the vicinity of Cuttyhunk Island, City Island, Devils Bridge and Middle Ground Shoal, where the Dwight went down. Captain Tilton has been over the bottom with a sounding drag until the lighter is located, when a diver will be sent down from the Restless.

EXPECT TO RECOVER MONEY

It was stated here today that there were $50,000 in bills on the body of Captain Calvin in the cabin of the sunken lighter. When asked if this was true, members of the State police here said that they were confident of recovering a large sum of money, but would not place an estimate on the amount.

On the schooner Rogers when it started out today were Captain Franklin G. Wright and Inspector Ernest S. Bradford of the State police. Sheriff Walter H. Benson of Vineyard Haven, Colonel Alfred Foster of the Department of Public Safety and Driver David J. Carney of Vineyard Haven.

PAN-AMERICANS TO HELP S. S. KEEP "DRY"

Bathings (Phila. May 4) (By the Associated Press)—The fifth Pan-American conference ended after six weeks deliberation. It reached agreements on general questions of commerce, education and hygiene, failed to smooth out such topics as naval armament, an American League of Nations, the Monroe Doctrine, and an American Court of Justice.

The conference gave encouragement to the prohibition movement, agreeing to assist in keeping intoxicants from being exported to the United States.

The hygiene committee, headed by Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, brought about the adoption of measures that will make international cooperation in stamping out disease.

Future gatherings will be called upon to take further action on various subjects. The Pan-American Congress of Jurists at Rio Janeiro in 1925 will be asked to attempt a codification of American international law and to take up the League of Nations plan for an American Court of Justice.

The conference adopted two treaties, one for the protection of Pan-American trade marks, the other for an agreement under which international disputes would be investigated by a fact-finding commission.

REAL ESTATE HAPPENINGS

ROBURY SALES.

The following sales were reported through the office of Norman L. No. 22 Blue Hill avenue, Robury: Lillian K. Wyner has conveyed her three-family frame dwelling and about 4,000 square feet of land at No. 15 Elmwood street, Robury, to Katherine Leishman. The former bought for home and investment. This property is assessed $7,500.

Howe Honda has conveyed to Alton A. Murphy a two and three-apartment frame house at No. 29 and 29½ Magazine street, with 4,200 square feet of land with a total assessment of $5,000.

At No. 244 Palmer street, Bennett Johnson has taken title from John J. Burke of the two-family frame house and large lot of land, assessed for $3,200.

William Brooks Company has conveyed to Arthur V. Hayes of the frame block at Nos. 1102 to 1114 Tremont street, and Nos. 42 to 43 Weston street. Approximately 14,240 square feet of land was included in the sale. The total property is assessed for $24,600 of which $13,700 is on the land.

At No. 40 to 42 Blue Hill avenue, the three frame dwellings were conveyed by Thomas M. Abbott, to Richard J. Keenan, the former buying for investment. This property is assessed for $13,600. About 64,000 square feet of land was included.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held yesterday, the following were elected to membership:

Henry E. Buehfeld, real estate, 101 Tremont street;
Russell J. Goodnow, trustee, 754 Old South Building;
George W. Jenkins, real estate, 21 State street;
Simon E. Hecht, merchant, 437 Summer street;
Elliott Henderson, insurance and builder, 75 Milk street;
Gerald J. Murphy, with Henderson & Ross, 1214 Commonwealth avenue.

Samuel Tarplin has conveyed the property numbered 8 Buffin street from Beaulieu C. Heath and John L. Hall, trustees, of Sarah M. Fay estate. This property consists of 1,845 feet of land and a five-story brick building, now the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston.

The same purchasers have also taken title to number 8 Buffin street from Beaulieu C. Heath and John L. Hall, trustees, of Sarah M. Fay estate. This property consists of 1,845 feet of land and a five-story brick building, now the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston.

These sales were negotiated through the office of Whitcomb & Company, No. 10 State street, Boston.

Ernest H. Harding, trustee, has conveyed to Rosa L. Smith the five-story brick apartment house and 12,200 square feet of land numbered 376 to 384 on Newbury street, near Massachusetts avenue. This property is assessed for $115,000, of which $40,000 is on the land.

The new owner bids for investment and to improve this property. This sale was negotiated through the office of Whitcomb & Company, 10 State street, Boston.

The entire building 174-180 Washington street, extending through to 15 Devonshire street, has been joined from the Six Little Tailors, Inc., to John J. Dink.

The building contains four floors and a basement covering a lot area of 24,000 square feet, and having a total assessment of $220,000. The lease will occupy the entire street front of site.

This lease was negotiated through the office of Moore, Whitcomb & Company, 10 State street, Boston.

GORDON GIRL'S CHUM TO TESTIFY

Mrs. Margaret Bruce Wallace, girlhood chum and confidante of Dorothy Gordon, the helms now confined in the McLean House Hospital at Waverley, will be called to testify against William F. Jardine, who, as guardian for Dorothy, is now rendering an account of his stewardship before Master Gilbert A. A. Perry at Suffolk Court house.

Mrs. Wallace was formerly a maid at the home of William F. Jardine and while there became a close friend of the Gordon helms. It was she who bared the secrets of the Jardine home and who told of the treatment accorded Dorothy when the latter's mentality is supposed to have broken down. Attorney John L. Sheehan told the Boston American today that this woman will be called upon to furnish testimony in regard to the actions of Jardine while serving as Dorothy's guardian.

FOLLOWS SUE JORDAN.

This is the girl who, at the Dorothy Gordon hearing last December, declared that she saw the helms strapped to a bed in the day time at the McLean Asylum and that the Jardine told her to tell others that Dorothy was at school.

Jardine took the stand at the resumption of the hearing today, the rebuttal being continued by his counsel, Robert Nason. Mrs. Rose Jordan will be called to the stand when the guardian's testimony is completed and Mrs. Wallace is expected to follow Mrs. Jordan.

In the opening of the rebuttal Attorney Nason asked Jardine to explain the sum of $150 paid to Mary Cookley, at one time the housekeeper in the Jardine home. This, stated Jardine, represented money paid by Dorothy Gordon to send Mary Cookley's daughter, Evelyn, to a summer camp.

COUNSEL AT ODDS.

"Why did she want the little girl to go to camp?" Mr. Nason asked. "Dorothy thought it would do the little girl good," Jardine replied.

A long argument, with many sarcastic remarks from both attorneys over the delivery of various purchases to Dorothy, which had been bought in Boston stores with her money, brought out the fact charged by Attorney Nason that many of these purchases were never delivered to Jardine's ward.

"They were delivered all right, but to Lena Jardine, instead of to Dorothy Gordon," declared Sheehan with emphasis.

When Attorney Nason interrogated Dorothy Sheehan broke in, demanding to know "what purchases are you talking about?"

"FIFTY GIRL IN FUNDS.

Mr. Nason replied that "it can't be expected that the guardian was going to look into the intimate wardrobe of the girl, Dorothy."

Jardine, in rebuttal, stated that he paid Dorothy's allowances by check and that he furnished money as she desired it. In explaining checks for $60 sent to her at House in the Pines, a private school in Connecticut, during which time students were limited to $25 a month, Jardine said that on these occasions Dorothy needed the money for additional use.

He said that he never did anything toward purchasing clothes for Dorothy without her knowledge and permission.

'88 OBSERVED BY 'FIGHTING' NINTH TODAY

The old Ninth Regiment of the Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, famous as the "Fighting Ninth," comes into its own again today when its Kelleys and Burkes and Shaws foregather in celebration of the 25th anniversary of their departure for Cuba in the Spanish-American war of 1898.

"That 'the fighting ones don't die out' was evident as the many members of the old regiment that carried on in the World War as the 101st, arrived for the occasion. Colonel F. H. Hogan, who has since died, was in command on the memorable day that the regiment left the East Arsenal, was reviewed by Governor Roger Wolcott and Mayor Josiah Quincy and departed from the old Kneeland street station of the Boston & Albany Railroad.

COLLEGE BOY DRESS FOR DRY SQUADRON

Auburn, Me., May 4.—A flying squadron of dry agents, dressed to resemble college boys and mounted on inconspicuous, but speedy and serviceable motorcycles has been ordered to the dry forces here by Sheriff May. Federal prohibition director for Maine. The new detachment of the dry forces will be used principally in chasing smugglers. Each member of the detachment has been required to pass severe athletic tests.

BOY PICKED MOVIE STARS AND WON AUTO

Eagle Cann, aged sixteen, of No. 4 Chard street, East Weymouth, a high school boy, won a touring car given by the Boston Theatre to the person identifying the largest number of screen stars in a contest held last week. The boy turned in a perfect list. His mother, Mrs. Matty P. Cann, was third on the list and Mrs. Rose Silberstein, No. 275 Blue Hill avenue, was second.

Where Men Meet Men Who Count

I often spend an hour or more in The Store for Men at the old Shuman Corner.

Here, on historic ground, is a vital business center of New England and to The Store for Men at one time or another comes almost every man of prominence in its business and professional life.

Here I have seen high public officials, eminent educators, clergymen, politicians whose names figure daily in the newspapers, actors, club men, labor leaders, captains of industry, big league ball players—in fact men of all walks of life buying shirts and ordering their suits and thoroughly enjoying themselves while doing it.

It's the convenience of it, the friendly masculine atmosphere, the helpful man-to-man service that attracts us; but most of all it's the merchandise we want at the prices that are right.

Yours for better apparel,

John Copley

The Pajama Shop

There are Pajamas here you'll not be likely to find elsewhere—pajamas made of imported and the best domestic materials.

SCHOOLHOUSE IN JAMAICA PLAIN PROBE BY FIN. COM. NEXT

It has been obtaining this work, with a close limit on it. The contractors who have been getting this work also did some work on Mr. Glynn's home, it is said.

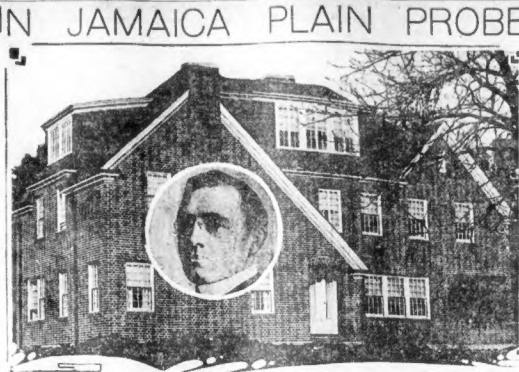

Mr. Glynn has been living in his new home since February last. It was learned, although the house was finished early in the winter. There are two mortgages on the house. A first, held by a trust company for $22,000, the papers being made out in Mrs. Glynn's name. The second mortgage is for $5,000, held by John H. O'Malley. They were recorded in the office of the Registry of Deeds on March 14 last.

The Schoolhouse Commission, at which Mr. Glynn is chairman, has the handling of $10,000,000 in the next three years for schoolhouse construction.

$500,000 FOR ARCHITECTS.

The architect's fees on new construction amounts to 5 per cent. This would mean that about $500,000 would be distributed by the city to architects doing schoolhouse work. During a previous administration an architect was asked to submit plans for a new schoolhouse. He did so, but it was just at the close of the administration. A new superintendent came in and the plans were held up. It is said that a third of the architect's fee was shared with the "reaper party" before the plans were accepted.

Washington—Representative Graham of Illinois, a candidate for Republican leadership in the next House, announced he would introduce a bill to prohibit American citizens from exercising and serving upon to passengers at any time.

INVESTIGATED BY FINANCE COMMISSION

Thomas P. Glynn, chairman of the Schoolhouse Commission, and his new mansion on May street, Jamaica Plain, the building of which is under investigation by the Finance Commission because it is alleged some of the contractors have done work for the city as well as for Mr. Glynn.

PROFESSOR BUCKLOW

Columbia University says "acquired characteristics are not hereditary," and contradicts the professor who predicts that soon children will be made to inherit the genius of their fathers. Mr. Bucklow is wise, but how does he explain the changes in the human race? How did it get rid of cannibalism and the red hair that covered its body in the old days, or its big canine teeth, projecting jaw, etc.?

And how do young mad-wives, bees and ants achieve the acquired surgical, architectural and other habits of their parents? The brain learns and transmits its knowledge. In the lower animals we call it instinct. In man we call it "higher civilization."

HERE IS REAL NEWS.

It is judged by the old formula: "If a dog bites a man, that's nothing. If a man bites a dog, that's news." Mr. Jacobs is fined $10 in Pittsburgh for treating a lion cruelly. Jacobs, by profession, trains lions, and he bit the lion in the face with a heavy whip and frightened it by shooting blank cartridges in its face.

Output Increases

Production of Calumet & Arizona Mining Company for April was 3,000,000 pounds of the copper, which compares with 2,800,000 in March.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters and bunions. "TIZ" draws out the heat and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle and joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a box of "TIZ" now from any drug or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.

FLOODS FORCE U. S. TENDER TO HANDLE MAIL

Portland, Me., May 4.—The United States lightship tender Albion has been dispatched to Mt. Desert Park to carry mail delayed by flood conditions east of Bangor in Bangor and other points in eastern Maine. The mails will be taken from Bangor to Mt. Desert by train and delivered in various towns by motor truck when loaded at Eastport by the Albion.

A party of forty-five Canadians including several women and five children, en route from Boston to Woonsocket, N. B., have been held in Bangor several days by the floods. These women, many in families, they were fed by the city authorities and housed in an immigration casement. They had arranged for them to continue their journey via freight today.

CHARACTER READING BARED IN LECTURE

Frank W. Babb, whose character analyses of Vice President Coolidge, Lord Kitchener, Theodore Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover and other leaders have attracted attention of scholars and others interested in psychological developments, will lecture in Stoughton Hall, Haystack street, next Sunday evening and again on Tuesday evening. His lectures will reveal how to read character and how to find out what job one is best fitted for. Both lectures will be free.

GARLAND EXPLAINS HIS VIEWS ON "FREE LOVE" TO RABBI

WHOLE MATRIMONY SYSTEM IS WRONG, HE ASSERTS

THE fact that the world is a place of unhappiness and suffering is the first thing that strikes the eye of the student of the human condition. It is the first thing that strikes the eye of the student of the human condition. It is the first thing that strikes the eye of the student of the human condition.

Now, I am going to explain to you the whole matrimony system is wrong. It is wrong because it is based on a false premise. It is based on the idea that a man and a woman can live together in a permanent union. This is a false premise. It is a false premise because it is based on the idea that a man and a woman can live together in a permanent union.

Charles Garland, the author of "The Philosophy of the Human Condition," has written a book which explains the whole matrimony system is wrong. It is wrong because it is based on a false premise. It is based on the idea that a man and a woman can live together in a permanent union.

THE WAYS OF A HUSBAND—By ANN LISLE

Continuing the Interesting and Intensely Human Adventures of Anne and Jim

HOW THE STORY STARTS

Jim and Anne find happiness again on a honeymoon spent in the apartment of Betty Winston, landlady for the time being. They go to Dreamworld for a Sunday drive, and are met in the grounds by Rosa, who ignores Anne. Rosa advises the discharge of Mabel Shivers from the household. This Anne resents. She suggests that Frankie stay at Dreamworld until Neal returns from Father Andrews' bedside.

Fall River Line to New York

Comfortable and Convenient

Leaving Boston at the close of the business day, you arrive in New York the next morning, rested and refreshed in mind and body, in ample time to keep any business engagement.

The intervening hours are spent quietly and comfortably. The freedom from restraint offered by the roomy, well-ventilated saloons, the soothing strains of the orchestra, an excellent cuisine served in the spacious dining saloon, a night's sound sleep stretched out in a full size berth as comfortable as your own bed at home—these all combine to make your trip a refreshing pleasure.

Ocean steamer comfort, luxury and service.

Here's a Savings Bank Editorial

It May Sound a Little Radical, but SOME Banks Side With the Farmer

Copyright, 1923, War Company

Mr. C. P. Martin, cashier of the Parnell Savings Bank of Parnell, Iowa, writes:

Would you have any objections to our using the enclosed copy of your editorials in the Chicago Herald and Examiner?

We consider your editorials the best ever written and would like a few others to read them also.

Yours truly,

C. P. MARTIN, Cashier.

Attached to the letter is the circular published below, made up of extracts from the "Today" column published in the Chicago Herald and Examiner and other Hearst daily newspapers.

Some bankers may be surprised to find their brother banker of Parnell, Iowa, deciding so decidedly with farmers, using as "bank literature" newspaper statements that might seem almost "radical" to old-fashioned bankers.

Here is the Iowa Savings Bank editorial that the Parnell Bank will send out to farmers and others with whom it does business. Some bankers, including some of the biggest and wisest, side with the average little man.

T. H. TOMEY, President. T. J. COLLINS, Vice-President. C. P. MARTIN, Cashier.

Parnell Savings Bank

The following appeared in the February 12th-24th and April 3d issue of the Chicago Herald and Examiner and was written by Arthur Brisbane, the great and noted editorial writer, and it might be well for the agricultural loan agencies and the War Finance Corporation to notice before rejecting many good farmers' notes offered for redaction by country banks. It has been next to impossible in many cases to get absolutely good farmers' notes accepted:

From That "Today" Column

Mr. Daws, earnest and emphatic Chicago financier, is agitated about the "blows" in the Senate. He thinks they are unpatriotic and breed demagoguery. But Mr. Daws, practical as well as eloquent, must know that only one blow has any power in the Senate. That is the financial blow. No need getting excited about any other than that blow, which in the long run has its way with legislation.

The farm blow is really disliked because it presumes even to question the supremacy of the Wall Street blow.

Keep the farmers contented. Discontentment starts in the stomach. It's the stomach, not the brain, that rebels.

Stability is in the farms, and what they produce. Farmers, prosperous, give free business insurance to High Finance. It is a great temptation to tap the farm wealth. It can be reached so easily and "legally" through railroad rates, fertilizer and agricultural implements trusts, high mortgage rates, gambling in farm products—a hundred ways.

Don't yield to the temptation. Don't fight the "farm blow" or any agency friendly to farmers. Divide a little. Don't be too stingy with your defenders. Farmers are your defenders. A full stomach never retails—it's busy digesting.

When farmers butcher their milking cows, cut their crop acreage, let their "year-round" men go, because they can't afford to pay them, let potatoes rot in the ground, or burn corn, that's a danger signal for YOU, to whom absence of unrest means so much.

The human being is a patient creature, and hates the agitator by instinct, for he hates thinking. He won't listen at all while he is fed. But let him get hungry—then he'll listen. Remember Russia.

The farmer is your insurance. He will do for you what corporate lawyers can't do. Food and plenty of it, cheap, is the great optative.

Nurse the farmer along. Don't force him out of business or into prices beyond public reach. Government of the people, by the people, and for the people has not yet appeared complete. But this is sure, the kind of government you have now depends on a people well, regularly and reasonably fed.

If you stand before the high priests of finance today and tell them that the present system can't last, with the majority worried and poor, you are not thrown into a jail, but you are apt to be thrown into a convenient jail "for seeking to upset the government."

The above appearing at different dates in the Chicago Herald and Examiner by Arthur Brisbane, the best editorial writer in the world today, is highly appropriate and should receive great consideration.

C. P. MARTIN, Cashier Parnell Savings Bank.

England's Fighting Labor

Not Much European Reciprocity

Copyright, 1923, War Company

The British Labor party is a real party, a big representation in Parliament, it is a fighting body. It denounced the extravagance of the royal wedding that took place the other day. Spend the money to help the unemployed, say the Labor men, and they predict "bloody revolution or economic collapse." Lucky for the peace of mind of our prosperous citizens we have no such Labor party here.

President Harding forbids the War Department to sell surplus weapons to foreigners, buy killing each other, and he says they must be sold to Americans that would sell them abroad. Thus we protect Europe from her own foolishness of killing.

Europe doesn't reciprocate by protecting us from our foolishness of drinking and drug-taking. Drugs are shipped in, European governments take the profit and know it. And England sends us TWO THOUSAND PER CENT. more whiskey than she sent before prohibition.

Navy Wage Award

Editor Boston American: I have been instructed by the members of this association to extend our sincere thanks for the courtesies shown by your correspondent, Mr. C. O. Power, and your city editor in giving us space in your valuable columns to show industries and inconsistencies of wage award recently promulgated by Navy Department. Mr. Hearst is to be congratulated on the breadth of vision shown in the selection of men of honor who will write the truth and state the facts as they are, without distortion.

We feel that to the Boston American in a very large measure is due the credit for the serious of the Navy Department in ordering a re-opening of wage boards to reconsider injustices and do not hesitate to proclaim this to the general public. May your paper continue to increase its growth in circulation.

WORDS FROM THE LIPS OF WISE MEN

THE feeling of safety, almost inseparable from large possessions, is a surer cause of misery than ungratified desires.

Don't make imaginary evils when you know there are so many real ones to encounter.

A book may be amusing with numerous errors, or it may be very dull without a single absurdity.

A number of men's shirts to make over for children's dresses.

ED. NOTE—Seems as though we heard somewhere that men's shirts make fine rompers. If so, they will come in handy, and your offer will be held for reply. Thank you. Perhaps other readers have some, too.

Spring Coat

Editor Helping Hand: I have a Spring coat for a young girl size eighteen years. Kindly send.

MRS. L. B. H.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with W. P. R. who is a sister and who has to support a widow's mother and two brothers. Thank you.

Offers Clothes

Editor Helping Hand: I have one brown coat, about size 16, and a blue serge shirt and waist. MRS. E. A. M. 2.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with another Mrs. E. A. M., who needs clothes for her twelve-year-old daughter.

Nurse's Dresses

Editor Helping Hand: Please send me Mrs. K. G. B.'s address, as I have a few nurse's dresses that she could make over, and also a pair of shoes size six and other articles that would be useful.

MRS. L. A.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. Her address will be sent you.

Aid for A. R. and K. G. B.

Editor Helping Hand: Kindly send me Mrs. K. G. B.'s address. Also send me Mrs. K. G. B.'s address.

MRS. C. E. S.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. These addresses will be sent you.

THE HELPING HAND

Do Not Incur Losses. Letters Will Not Be Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls. No Names Are Published.

Suit and Coat

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a suit size 36 for a woman and also a short winter coat, which are in good condition, and a few small things, including a coat to fit a girl about four. I will forward them to any address you send me, postpaid.

MRS. W. P.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with W. P. R. who is a sister and who has to support a widow's mother and two brothers. Thank you.

"Let's All Help"

Editor Helping Hand:

Please forward the boy's address and I will fix him up with a new pair. Let's all help.

J. G. W.

ED. NOTE—The clipping you enclose is a letter from a girl who is on the athletic team at school—not a boy—and who asks for answers. If the "wise woman" and all you know, you will be sent her address. Many thanks.

Offers Magazines

Editor Helping Hand:

Please send the address of some reader who would like some magazines. I have a few I would gladly give to some poor student.

C. I. P.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. Your offer will be held for replies.

Needs Sheets and Curtains

Editor Helping Hand:

Have some of your kind readers any such curtains, cretonne or sheets that they don't want, even if they need mending. I have only one sheet, which I have to wash out every week and put back again. Also a single blanket the children's bed. What I have been thinking in the last few years is something I hate to think of. And now my husband is threatened with appendicitis and may be taken away any minute.

MRS. T. F.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with Mrs. G. H., who wears size 36, and who can use the gingham.

I have five children. The oldest, a boy eight, who has never worn a suit except what I make over for him; a boy six, another two and a baby five months.

MRS. G. E. D.

Needs the Watch

Editor Helping Hand: I am a young mother and just lost a baby, but I have two little ones—Mary, one year old, and Anna, two years old—that need clothes. My husband would greatly appreciate the watch Mrs. T. S. has offered, as he has to be to work so early, and my clock loses time so that I don't sleep watching for the morning.

I have a loose black serge coat that I shall find and press for you if you will send her address.

MRS. A. F.

ED. NOTE—Mrs. T. S. offered the watch to someone else, but I will send her your address, and she may send it to you if she wishes. You will be put in touch with M. G. for the cape. Thank you.

Wants an Old Suit

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband works in dirty, oily places. He has one good suit, which will be obliged to wear soon. I cannot see any way to get another suit when this one is gone, as we are not in very good circumstances at present. For this reason I am asking you to know of any old coat or suit around size 45; it would be very gratefully received.

MRS. M. T. F.

List of Things to Give

Editor Helping Hand: If you will please send me the name of someone needing the following list I will be glad to send them parcel post.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with Mrs. G. H., who wears size 36, and who can use the gingham.

Shirts to Make Over

PROFITEERS CAN'T BE HANDLED WITH KID GLOVES

By Herbert Kaufman

THE government's sugar suit is now being heard, but not by the market. Prices aren't listening to Federal prosecutors.

The real cause of the people against the profiteers is because of the bar of public opinion.

Outrageous situations inspire rough remedies. Greed can't be handled with kid gloves. Economic lynch law must handle the conspiracy which the Sherman act finds so difficult to manage.

Join the household vigilantes; reduce your buying a pound a week. Create a surplus. Leave the letting of your cakes. Drop one lump instead of two into the coffee cup.

Eat less candy and more fruit—change recipes from heaping to level spoonful, and muckle reductions multiplied by millions will cut daily consumption by trainloads and force the gamblers to sell their undisposed of stocks at their actual worth.

Stint your sweet-tooth and break the corner.

Rods in Pickle for Price-Fixers

Fifty we don't enjoy the same stern tactics against coal barons and lumber kings.

Folk may go without desserts—there are substitutes for almost everything—but timber and fuel are still indispensable.

So mining and lumber interests will brazenly exploit necessity until their outrageous profits are clinging capital issues.

Then watch platform-framers rush to the handcuff rack. Always remember that Congress can hold down any living when properly minded. Write often to your hired men at Washington and the State Capitol and you'll have fewer wrongs. Wise ballots make hundred-cent dollars.

Washington has hailed the Western Pine Association to court. Construction costs warn the administration to get out its birch.

Glassware manufacturers are asked to prove they didn't violate anti-trust statutes with price-limits and trade intimidation.

Plumbing fixtures won't be so expensive, now that a dozen sanitary earthenware producers are convicted of extortion, fined and committed to jail.

The only effective bars against predacy are found in prison.

When judges and juries do their duty to conscience and country, millionaires won't be such novities in penitentiaries.

Red Herrings and Bloodhounds on the Trail

Anthracite operators whine of three-million-dollar strike losses.

It'll take a bigger red herring than this sprat to distract attention from the trail of last winter's profits.

They took many times that amount out of the culm pile. One day's adulterated shipments easily covered the deficit.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts is convinced that fur-naces won't get a square meal or pocketbooks a square deal unless we take over the mines. Snuffles and shivers will finally provide the majority to do it.

Radio Become a Bloodhound

The kidnappers of six-year-old Verner Alexanderson won't escape the packs of the air.

History of excitement in America is searching for the stolen child. Vengeance now has an unescapable voice. The Charley Rose mystery won't be repeated. Wireless follows every trail—to the end.

Aviators flying above trackless Hawaii mountains drop seed upon their peaks. Tomorrow now an area of eight square miles, yesterday took months for like jobs.

Tomorrow will see vast forests on slopes once thought forever doomed to uselessness. Invention keeps reaching beyond established bounds of possibility. What next?

Intrigue No Novelty to Moses

Turkey confirms the Chester grant. Former Ambassador Morgenthau prophesies peaks of trouble for the concessionaires.

Temal provokes armed gestures from France. Paris and Constantinople are on the verge of a rupture.

Ismet at Lausanne disdains all allied proposals, will guarantee nothing, claims national jurisdiction over immigrants and hosts of exiles in America searching for foreigners.

Islam is an obdurate haggler. Mohammed's people always bluff through to the showdown. But what can a busted four-flush do against the four aces of civilization?

Senator Moses chafes "thumbs down" on the international court. He promises to unpack several trunkful of heated views on foreign entanglements.

The gentleman from New Hampshire remembers his years at Athens. Intrigue is no novelty to him.

The New York World is instructed to express his opinion that we have no business abroad. "Our only role would be to have our leg pulled."

Word from the White House suggests that the President's overseas advisers are chilling in the party's refrigerator. Republican leaders have been whispering in his ear.

Not So Much to Criticize

The league of youth challenges experience to justify this record. Three hundred Alexanders and Jeanes d'Arc gathered at Manhattan's Town Hall and hecatically deliver judgment upon their incompetent elders.

France, England, Chili, Germany and Japan join with Afro-Americans in a world-wide rebellion against the sterility of ruling opinion.

"Age, you have failed," pours in metric cadences from the lips of Countess P. Cullen, bard and reformer. Sleep in peace. Our troubles are over.

No mention was made of assuming immediate control of industry. So automobile manufacturers may proceed with plans to put the rest of the United States on tires.

City Streets and Country Roads

Twelve million motor cars were licensed in 1923. We manufactured 2,659,000 of them last year. Mr. Rockefeller's income finds that it took five billion gallons of gasoline to keep us moving.

Three and a half million farmers are sufficiently prosperous to patronize his little red tanks. Indecent drivers killed 334 of us out of every 100,000. New York contrived a higher percentage to the death roll. City streets aren't as safe as country roads.

Father Knickerbocker is tired of sudden jumps and has established a so-called "no limit" for taxicabs.

Ten years ago there weren't many more between all coasts.

If the league of youth will consider what has been accomplished as well as a few undone works its members won't find so out to criticize.
